MYTH HUNTERS

In this 13 part series, we tell the story of the real life quests for some of history's greatest legends. From the Nazis' search for the Holy Grail, to the Americans who hunted for pirate treasure in Vietnam; from the true story of the crystal skulls to the mystery of King Solomon's mines - this series uncovers the truth behind some of the most fabulous, romantic and deranged treasure hunts in modern history.

This series reveals:

- » How Himmler sent an expedition to Greenland to find the Holy Grail
- » How the lure of Captain Kidd's treasure ended, for two young Americans, in a jail in Vietnam
- » How a book was deemed so powerful it had been hidden for 500 years; but when it was finally found, it turned out its contents were made up
- » How a 21st century Christian expedition to find Noah's Ark ended in mortar fire and accusations of forgery
- » How a German explorer went looking for King Solomon's mines, but ended up making one of the great archaeological discoveries in all Africa
- » How a samurai sword - so perfect it was said to split light and make the user invisible - now hangs in the house of an American president
- » How the most powerful artefact of in Ancient Egypt, a book of spells, turned out to be real and is now on display

These true life action adventures are fast-paced, gripping stories and all delivered in HD. The executive producer is two-time Emmy and Bafta award winner Matthew Barrett.
